Design Philosophy/History
Since its inception in 1968, the office has established a reputation for consistently producing responsive and innovative solutions to a wide range of architectural commissions. Initially the office focussed on residential work including individual housing, project housing and various multi-unit developments for private clients and government authorities.

In recent years that office has broadened its work base to include a range of commercial, educational and institutional projects. The diversity of projects undertaken by the practice, low cost welfare housing to luxury individual houses, from local government offices to footbridges and high rise buildings are part of a strategy to maintain a flexible design methodology free from pre-conceptions and formularised solutions.
